 Just as the story of an epic poem is woven from characters and plot, so too the individual similes within an epic create a unique simile world. Like any other story, it is peopled by individual characters, happenings, and experiences, such as the shepherd and his flocks, a storm at sea, or predators hunting prey. The simile world that complements the epic mythological story is re-imagined afresh in relation to the themes of each epic poem. As Deborah Beck argues in this stimulating book, over time a simile world takes shape across many poems composed over many centuries. This evolving landscape resembles the epic story world of battles, voyages, and heroes that comes into being through relationships among different epic poems. Epic narrative is woven from a warp of the mythological story world and a weft of the simile world. They are partners in creating the fabric of epic poetry.

 New Book of Poems for Mom and Grandma Laguna Woods, CA Make Mother and Grandmother feel all the more special with this new selection of poems heralding their unselfish love. Celeste Nadine Galucci, accomplished poet and ASCAP member, pays tribute to all mothers in her new poetry book Love into Poetry. This poetry collection is rich in imagery and profuse in love, respect, and gratitude for the special women in our lives. Bring a smile to their eyes with this new book as an extended celebration of Mother's Day. From the poem "Your Love To Me," Galucci employs similes to describe a mother's devotion, "Like a symphony of violins/With the sweetest harmony contained therein/...Like a choir of birds in enchanting sound/... Beautiful words echoing all around/...Is your love to me." The book is actually composed of three parts. The first set of poems is for mothers, the second for grandmothers, and the third is a selection of poems that had been made by Galucci through the years. Having had a close relationship with her mother has inspired Galucci to create poems since she was a child. It was actually her mother who gave the title Love into Poetry, a fitting label for a daughter's gratitude for the woman who loved and inspired her. For Galucci, her mother had been a model of fortitude, faith in God, and love. In her childhood and teenage years, the poet had been stricken with debilitating diseases that doctors thought she would not live long. But her mother kept her faith and prayed for her child all along. In her new book of poetry, Galucci dedicates her works to the woman who had touched her life most. It is also to her mother that Celeste owes her artist blood. The late Patty S. Galucci was an ASCAP (American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers) member and wrote numerous songs. About the Author Celeste Nadine Gallucci was born in Woodbury, New Jersey, in 1939 into a family of poets, musicians, and writers. A prolific writer and poet, Celeste has gained acclaim for her works. Her poems had been featured on radio programs and selected for anthologies including those published by Ella Fraser and the Salesian Mission. Galucci was also nominated to this year's Who's Who in America. A gift of poetry to honor and to acknowledge mother, grandmother, mother-in-law, mother figure on Mother's Day and on her special day. A collection of poems expressing in appreciation and acknowledgement of mothers for their kindness and self-sacrifice for their children and in remembrance of mothers in heaven. Happy Mother's Day: A Day to Celebrate and Remembrance of You is a heart warming poetry book from the diverse perspectives of children of different ages, grandchildren, husband/ex-husband and children-in-law to acknowledge and thank all the mothers and mother figures out there in the world, doing the best that they could to nurture and support their children to be at their best. (Note: This paperback is printed in black and white interior with white paper.) Mothers, you are one of the kind in the universe loving us, your children, from the time of your children's conceptions, continuing on the existence of time. No word can thank you enough for all the deeds you have done for each one of us. Simile and Metaphor in Greek Poetry from Homer to Aeschylus Blue Mountain Arts A-Z Of Mother's Day is a collection of 26 short, original poems. We know that many children, especially sons, might find it hard to put into words what their mother means to them, so we've lent a helping hand by writing this little book, which focuses on many of the different qualities that the world's best mothers bring to their demanding role. As the title suggests, there is one poem for each letter of the alphabet, with each poem focusing on a theme related to Mother's Day. Here's a sample poem from this collection: Y Is For Youthful You always have so many things on your plate One thing after another, from morn 'til late Up at the crack of dawn, in bed at midnight That's too much for one person, it's just not right However, there's something I really don't get For years I've pondered - I can't fathom it yet Unless you've got some form of magic potion

Looking so young and aging in slow-motion The full list of all 26 poems is as follows: A Is For Affectionate B Is For Bewitching C Is For Creativity D Is For Daffodil E Is For Empathetic F Is For Fabulous G Is For Generous H Is For Humorous I Is For Incomparable J Is For Jelly Donut K Is For Kindness L Is For Ladylike M Is For Mother'S Day N Is For No-Nonsense O Is For One Of A Kind P Is For Positive Q Is For Queen Of The Home R Is For Reliable S Is For Supportive T Is For Telepathic U Is For Unwavering V Is For Virtuous W Is For Well-Mannered X Is For X-Ray Vision Y Is For Youthful Z Is For Zillions

Brogan traces in detail the Wallace Stevens increasingly sophisticated use of similes in order to demonstrate how they satisfied both his own intellectual needs and the needs of modern poetry. While thoroughly grounded in the poetry of Stevens, her book also explores the nature of language itself by demonstrating the possibilities, as well as the limitations, of either a romantic or a deconstructive conception of language. Originally published in 1986. This publication is a poetic combination and tribute to a parent, a wife, a daughter more so a mother everywhere, be it single or still committed. It is an in-depth feeling shared from the heart, as long as a woman chooses the title as a mother she owns it for life no copyright needed. It is self sacrifice that last a life time. It is the commitment a mother chooses. It is the inspiration she showers as long as life last for her. It is the pain she bears for her children, It is the shoulder she gives them to cry on either for good or bad. It is the serenity she extends like a sunshine smile that no one could replace from a natural mother. It is the title she bears until death; happy or unhappy she will then outlive. The motivation derived from natural feelings and from a child to her mother and mothers around the world. Mother often and always do without clothing and food to make sure their growing children's needs are taken care of above hers. It is the fabric of what mothers are made of each thread are the children of her inward parts every mother earn day or night. The captivating feelings are all that comes naturally. The feelings expressed through words while working with countless mothers every where with their new born. Many are the sacrifices they made for their children and many are the joys to be reaped.

A Day in the Life and Heart of a Mother is a day I let go of feeling sorry for myself for not receiving Mother's Day cards and chose to be of service creating poems for mothers through the day. What an amazing journey I had on this day meeting 33 amazing mothers and writing heart-felt poems for them.

Saving Salina Independently Published

My mother, Jean Reid, inspired me to write these love poems, because of her love for her children, and the way she raised me to be a strong man in this world full of problems. I also noticed that a lot of mothers are struggling, and no one is there to help them with their pain and sufferings. I would like to share words of "inspiration" to all the mothers around the world.

Paul Celan: Studies in His Early Poetry scrutinizes the influences detectable in the poems written during 1938-48. Among German writers, Büchner, Goethe, Gottfried von Strassburg, Gryphius, Mörike, the poet of the Nibelungenlied, Novalis, Rilke, and Trakl all provided motifs that, often repeated, make for a dense network inviting attention to the self-referential and self-revealing patterns in Celan's early work. In addition, there are many poems that contain motifs gleaned from Greek mythology and/or biblical data. These references, on occasion quite clear, more often so obscure as to be hazy allusions, yield the view that during his first decade of poetic activities Celan becomes increasingly recondite. When these references or allusions stand side-by-side in a given poem, they acquire a surrealistic tint and threaten to withhold clear meaning. Ambiguities, deliberately cultivated in the earliest poems, begin to boomerang and read like so many preludes to the struggles with language evident in the poetry of Celan's maturity. It is a certainty that Celan reacted quickly, if not immediately, to the events befalling the scenes of his early years (Czernowitz and the forced-labor camp). This phenomenon mandates the view of his poems as so many pieces of autobiography. It thus is inevitable that as early as 1940 he wrote against the backdrop of war, and soon thereafter in the shadow of the Holocaust that was destined to brand his mind forever. This volume is meant for anyone interested in Celan, close reading of modern poetry in general, comparative literature, motif studies, poetic reactions to Holocaust events, or even in a Jew's concept regarding the role of the deity in the destruction of those for whom the poet speaks.
