 The Coding Manual for Qualitative Researchers is unique in providing, in one volume, an in-depth guide to each of the multiple approaches available for coding qualitative data. In total, 29 different approaches to coding are covered, ranging in complexity from beginner to advanced level and covering the full range of types of qualitative data from interview transcripts to field notes. For each approach profiled, Johnny Saldaña discusses the method's origins in the professional literature, a description of the method, recommendations for practical applications, and a clearly illustrated example.

 ABRAMS

This accessible textbook is the only introduction to linguistics in which each chapter is written by an expert who teaches courses on that topic, ensuring balanced and uniformly excellent coverage of the full range of modern linguistics. Assuming no prior knowledge the text offers a clear introduction to the traditional topics of structural linguistics (theories of sound, form, meaning, and language change), and in addition provides full coverage of contextual linguistics, including separate chapters on discourse, dialect variation, language and culture, and the politics of language. There are also up-to-date separate chapters on language and the brain, computational linguistics, writing, child language acquisition, and second-language learning. The breadth of the textbook makes it ideal for introductory courses on language and linguistics offered by departments of English, sociology, anthropology, and communications, as well as by linguistics departments. Revue municipale DigiCat Une détonation. Violeta vient de se donner la mort. S'ouvrant sur ce drame, ce récit retrace le destin de l'une des plus célèbres chanteuses latino-américaines. Violeta Parra (1917-1967) a contribué à changer le regard du monde sur le Chili par son exploration de la chanson engagée, symbolisant tout à la fois la solitude, la misère, l'espoir, la révolte d'un peuple. Angel Parra se remémore son enfance, ses odeurs, ses couleurs, faisant revivre une mère bohème et ivre de liberté qui lui a transmis sa vision du monde, sa foi en l'homme et sa passion pour la musique (chanson). Une préface de l'écrivain chilien Luis Sepúlveda et une présentation de la carrière de Violeta Parra par le musicologue Marc Legras complètent ce livre.

En mai 1871, un des insurgés qui fusillaient les otages relevait le canon de son chassepot. Interrogé plus tard, il déclara : " Ma balle a fait un trou dans le ciel. " La Commune de Paris a fait un trou dans le ciel... La Commune de Paris fut l'un des plus sanglants tumultes de notre histoire. Crise révolutionnaire, crise patriotique, crise sociale, elle devait servir après son écrasement de guide au Lénine de la révolution soviétique de 1917. Fille de la révolution de 1789, elle est la mère de la révolution d'Octobre. Ses hommes sont mal connus, déformés par la caricature ou l'ignorance, vénérés ou haïs. Qui étaient about life on earth. As human-induced environmental change threatens multispecies livability, Arts of Living on a Damaged Planet puts forward a bold proposal: entangled histories, situated narratives, and thick descriptions offer urgent “arts of living.” Included are essays by scholars in anthropology, ecology, science studies, art, literature, and bioinformatics who posit critical and creative tools for collaborative survival in a more-than-human Anthropocene. The essays are organized around two key figures that also serve as the publication’s two openings: Ghosts, or landscapes haunted by the violences of modernity; and Monsters, or interspecies and intraspecies sociality. Ghosts and Monsters are tentacular, windy, and arboreal arts that invite readers to encounter ants, lichen, rocks, electrons, flying foxes, salmon, chestnut trees, mud volcanoes, border zones, graves, radioactive waste—in short, the wonders and terrors of an unintended epoch. Reste que, de Villon à Céline, la création littéraire s'est - bien souvent - nourrie de l'argot. C'est ce que montre Jacques Cellard, qui présente, commente et - quand il le faut - traduit, la centaine de textes qui composent cette anthologie. Aux œuvres proprement littéraires, s'ajoutent des	textes bruts, des documents hauts en couleur, du théâtre, des chansons qui, à leur manière, racontent cinq siècles de notre histoire.
