Mastering Situational Leadership Jones & Bartlett Learning

Give your managers a 360-degree view of their leadership capabilities. This questionnaire will assist your managers in discovering their own perception of their leadership style. It presents 20 real-life situations along with four possible responses for each. Managers' responses to these situations reveal their: Leadership style flexibility Primary and secondary styles Effectiveness in diagnosing a situation and matching their choice of a leadership style to the situation Overall tendencies to misuse or over-use various styles Other This questionnaire presents the same 20 situations from the Self to a manager's boss, associates, and/or team members. Participants are asked to choose the response that best depicts the action he or she believes the manager being evaluated would take in each situation. These results coupled with results from the Self will give the manager a true-to-life picture of their leadership style and help them identify areas for improvement. Scoring This scoring instrument provides an easy way to tabulate and review the results of the Self and Other questionnaires. You will need one Scoring form for each person completing the Self and Other instruments. Leadership Style Profile; This profile will help your managers contrast their perception of their leadership style with those of their boss, associates, and team members. Use this tool to effectively combine results of the LBAII Self and Other forms. Managers will be able to answer these questions about their leadership style: Do I see myself as other see me? Am I flexible? Do I manage people differently? Do I diagnose situations well? These four tools are the only resources you need to evaluate and analyze leadership style!

These include the need to keep pace with rapidly evolving knowledge bases, developing skills and attitudes appropriate to practice, learning in the workplace and fostering public confidence. For twenty years, these new demands have created additional educational imperatives. Public accountability has become more intensive and extensive. Practitioners practice in climates more subject to scrutiny and less forgiving of error. The contexts in which professionals practice and learn have changed and these changes involve global issues and problems. Often, professionals are the first responders who are required to take an active stance in defining and solving problems. This book explores the pedagogic implications of these challenges internationally for a wide range of professions which include: accountants, military company commanders, surgeons, nurse practitioners, academic, managers, community physicians and dentists. The established view of professional development is about what the professional knows and can do. The authors broaden this view to include the systemic and contextual factors that affect learning, and the conditions necessary for effective practice and identity development across the professional lifespan. Authors examine the unique particularities and requirements of diverse professional groups. The editors emphasize new ideas and learning that emerges across the professions. As readers use this book as a pathway to their own innovations in scholarship and pedagogic research, they join their colleagues in supporting new directions in learning, teaching and assessment across professions. This book was awarded the 'Outstanding Research Publication award' for 2012 by the American Educational Research Association's Division I: 'Education in the Professions'.

Begin to process grief and remember those lost using the art form of origami. Learn to fold an origami swan using square, origami paper, and befriend the often confusing and sometimes unsettling feelings experienced during bereavement and after loss. With each origami swan that takes shape, meditate, grieve, and honor their memory. Learn that grief has no timeline and carries no expiration. Feelings, as confusing as they may be, are a valid and necessary part of the healing journey. Begin that journey today with this beautifully illustrated book. Using black-and-white nature illustrations paired with pressed florals and grasses, artist Michèle Saint-Michel takes you by the hand and leads you down the path toward healing. Step-by-step instructions assist even those unfamiliar with origami to fold a paper swan. Using poetic language and Japanese design aesthetics, Saint-Michel builds a robust world where escape is possible: a world of magical, flightless birds, where grief and loss can be embodied and explored. Give this book as a thoughtful, quiet gift to someone you care about in mourning or to yourself.

Leadership for Health Professionals Jones & Bartlett Learning

Feedback is a rare commodity in day-to-day organizational life, but it is a key to ongoing effectiveness. One popular vehicle for getting feedback from one's boss, peers, subordinates, and customers is the multiple-perspective or 360-degree-feedback instrument. Whether part of a management-development course or used alone, this kind of instrument can enhance self-awareness by highlighting a leader's strengths and areas in need of further development. Selecting the right instrument from among the dozens that are available can be difficult, however. This new edition of Feedback to Managers, the fourth, updates and expands the popular 1998 edition. It guides the selection process with an in-depth analysis of 32 publicly available instruments that relate self-view to the views of others on multiple management or leadership domains. Each of the instrument reports includes descriptive information, a look at the research behind the instrument, and descriptions of support materials.
