Living Hope for the End of Days John Barnett

I grew up knowing and loving God and Jesus. Some storms (trials) came up in my life and I turned away from the Lord. I became homeless and suffered from addictions; my life was full of sin. I suffered with the guilt and pain from my past, and panic attacks. My life was a mess, so I sought the Lord. I cried out to the Lord in my pain, He answered my prayers. Jesus has completely changed my life; the change was so drastic in me. I wanted people to know that Jesus can change their lives. I prayed and asked the Lord for the words to speak to tell people about Him. He answered my prayer and has produced through me this Scripture book. This Scripture book has Scripture arranged in orderly sequence to explain the prophecies, and birth of Jesus, the death and resurrection, ascension, and enthronement of Jesus at the right hand of God. God has given us a free gift of eternal life through believing in His Son Jesus. We are so blessed to have such an amazing loving Savior who we can come to know personally as a loving merciful King, brother, Friend, Provider, Healer, Helper, and strong Tower. You will come to know that God is a loving God who you can know personally as a loving Father. You will learn that God and Jesus and their holy Angels are watching over you. It is such an honor and privilege to share this message with you. I am praying for you, and will continue to pray and ask that God will touch your life through His beautiful

Son Jesus. (Jesus *said to him, "I am the way, and the truth, and the life; no one comes to the Father but through Me." John 14:6)

This work is not designed as a systematic treatise, but as a humble essay on the great, the inexhaustible subject of the love of Christ, as manifested to a lost world. It was composed during a long period of recovery front a chronic disease, which brought the author to the gates of death, and well near terminated his life. In the present essay the author has endeavored to notice a few ways in which Christ has manifested his great love to sinners. His object in writing this work is to do good; and should this volume be the means of leading any sinner to the blessed Jesus, or of kindling a single spark of divine love in his bosom, or even of refreshing the soul of any saint- of animating him on his way to glory- he will feel amply rewarded for the toil of writing it, when in a state of much physical inability; and most gratefully would he ascribe all the praise and glory to God. He can bless the feeblest instrument; and, without his blessing, all our labors for good must be futile. While the author would endeavor to lead others to the Lamb of God, to the bleeding Savior, most humbly would he himself glory in the cross of Christ. "God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world;" and ever does he hope to proclaim the love and set forth the praise of that blessed Redeemer, who left the regions of glory to live and die for sinners. "Jesus I my Shepherd, Husband, friend; My Prophet, Priest, and King; My Lord, my life, my way, my end, Accept the praise I bring. Weak is the effort of my heart, And cold my warmest thought; But when I see you as you art, I'll praise you as I ought. Till then I would your love proclaim, With every fleeting breath; And may the music of your name Refresh my soul in death." God designed from eternity to create this world, and people it with intelligent beings. This design was put into execution in the beginning of time. "In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth." He spoke, and this earth, with all its multifarious occupants, sprung into being. It required nothing but his almighty fiat to usher a world and its inhabitants into existence. Man was created in the image of God: hence he was a holy and a happy being. Uncontaminated by moral pollution, his soul was one of purity, holiness and happiness. He was lord of this lower creation, enjoying the smiles of his beneficent Creator, and the delight of the terrestrial paradise. Primeval beauty mantled all sublunary objects. Paradise bloomed with its richest productions; and all was peace and harmony between man and his Creator. At length man disobeyed the divine command; sinned against God, and fell from his original blessedness, by eating the forbidden fruit. "By one man sin entered into the world, and death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, for all have sinned." When we contrast man's present deplorable condition, with his pristine state of innocence, we may well exclaim with the Prophet, "How is the gold become dim! how is the most fine gold changed!" "The crown is fallen from our head: woe unto us that we have sinned." By his fall, man lost all communion with God, and became exposed to the miseries of this life, to death itself, and to the wrath of God through eternity. From this sinful and lost condition he could not extricate himself, he could not redeem himself, nor pay unto God a sufficient ransom for his manifold transgressions. A broken law was to be fulfilled, the justice of God to be satisfied, and a complete atonement to be made for the sins of men, or else God and the sinner could never be reconciled. Punishment, everlasting punishment and destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of his power, awaited all mankind in the world of just retribution. All was forlorn; all was hopeless, forever hopeless with regard to man's redemption, had not God interposed on our behalf; to give unto us an expected end. It was the grand design of God, from all eternity, to exhibit a magnificent plan of salvation to a lost world. And everlasting praise and thanksgiving be unto his most blessed name, that the glad tidings of this unspeakably precious salvation have reached our ears. When there was no eye to pity sinners, nor arm to save them, God's eye pitied and his arm alone brought salvation to them. In infinite love to lost and perishing sinners, he said, "Deliver them from going down to the pit; I have found a ransom." To every redeemed sinner, God says, "But I came by and saw you there, helplessly kicking about in your own blood. As you lay there, I said, 'Live!' And I helped you to thrive like a plant in the field. You grew up and became a beautiful jewel. Your breasts became full, and your hair grew, though you were still naked. And when I passed by and saw you again, you were old enough to be married. So I wrapped my cloak around you to cover your nakedness and declared my marriage vows. I made a covenant with you, says the Sovereign Lord, and you became mine." God did not leave all mankind to perish in their fallen, miserable and polluted condition. No! his love saved them; his wisdom devised a way by which we, polluted sinners, might be raised from the horrible pit into which our iniquities had consigned us. "When in our blood we lay, He would not let us die; Because his love had fixed a day, To bring salvation nigh."

Jesus Christ is the only way and the truth to attaining everlasting life. He is the way to living in God's kingdom. He is the life beloved. Stand firmly in this faith. Stand firmly in the Word of God. This is our faith, "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life"(Jn 3:16). Standing Firm in Christ Jesus is simply the book of Jude. The Lord Jesus Christ is expounding on His Word in this book. May God fill us up with His Spirit as we read this book through the mighty power and the anointing of the Holy Spirit and in the mighty name of Christ Jesus, our Lord. Amen.

Whispering Hope - His Saving Grace: A Book of Inspirational and Spiritual Poetry offers a wonderful healing collection of inspiring and spiritual poems written by Elizabeth Ann Marks. The author was inspired to write this book to help spread the love of God to others. Though she has been writing poetry since the age of ten, after joining a charismatic renewal prayer group, her gift for writing has become spiritual. She was inspired to write for God after being baptized in the Holy Spirit. These poems are elegant and moving. Some are informational about God's intentions for us, His love for us, and some are prayers written from the heart, both praising God and asking for special blessings as well as thanking Him for the blessings He has already bestowed on us. There are special prayers that ask God for healing for others. These prayers have been answered in a very positive way. She says, "Many people have already been inspired by these writings. Some have claimed healing during my reading of certain of these poems at the prayer group. Some have been brought to tears, and still others have told me they hear the words spoken by Christ and not by me." History of Our Blessed Saviour: Briefly Compiled from the New Testament WestBowPress

"No attempt has been made to present a critical study of Frances Jane Crosby, but simply to retell the life of the Sightless Singer as she, herself, told it to me on various occasions when visiting my home" - p. 11.

E. Hammond Oglesby offers a new method of moral discourse that can speak to ongoing critical issues in the black community, such as the AIDS pandemic, an absence of young-adult participation in many black churches, and a continuing battle against racism. In 'Pressing Toward the Mark,' he demonstrates that ordinary people of faith become ethical not by chance but by choice. He also helps readers understand the importance of Christian ethics in light of the deep spiritual and cultural roots of the black church in America. Through stories, theological reflection, and case studies meant to encourage small-group discussion, Oglesby builds a case that

Christian ethics begins--in the rhythmic flux of the black religious experience--with a love of freedom, because no child of God can be fully Christian without being free (Galatians 5:1).

From the Foreword: "This book of gospel music is a collection of lyrics and chords representing the familiar praises of Jesus Christ. The chords, noted above the lyrics, will aid in the accompaniment of the songs. The starting note indicates the first note of the melody. The main purpose of this book is to give the gospel singer a place to find his favorite songs and all the verses he may wish to sing. Some of these familiar songs date back to the early Christian Church, while others are contemporary. One will find here the longstanding hymns of the Church, revival songs and choruses, Negro spirituals, and children's songs. I have truly enjoyed putting this collection together for you. I hope you will find this book both a blessing and an inspiration to your spiritual life. God bless you."

The Psalms invite us to praise, pray, and proclaim. Since God loves us, and we love him, we then yearn for his presence, take pleasure in knowing him, and delight in praising him. Prayers of adoration, confession, thanksgiving, and supplication are centered in God's power and grace. God's grace invites our gratitude and our cares and concerns are easily met by his power. Our praise of God is not complete until we proclaim to others all that he is and has done. Power and Grace echoes the theological truths taught in the Psalms. God is awesome, great, good, loving, righteous, present, and worthy of praise. He is our creator, king, refuge, deliverer, and shepherd. Theological truth is holistic; it informs our head, heart, and hands--our thoughts, passions, and actions. This book invites the reader to meditate, sing, and pray each one of these theological truths. In short, this book celebrates God and his presence with us. Christian praise for the disciples of the Lord Jesus Christ [ed. by J.D.]. Xlibris Corporation

This book provides a captivating overview of the true birth of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Each word is inspired by the Holy Spirit, leaving no opportunity for the desires of the flesh, false doctrine, or traditional thinking to intervene. The Holy Bible provides explicit details concerning the birth, life, and death of Christ. However, his true purpose has been altered by many false teachings, doctrines, and traditional generational customs based on lies, trickery, and deceit, which have ultimately resulted in death. The Bible declares in Romans 6:23, For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. His purpose is no secret to those who believe and receive. This inspired work is the alpha of a series entitled The Divine Collection for Christ. The purpose of this work is to break the traditional generational customs and provide our children, teens, as well adults, with the truth. As you read this book, allow the Holy Spirit to minister to your heart. As the truth is revealed, take a moment to receive Jesus as your personal savior and repent of any and all sins, including the sin of idolatry associated with false teaching, doctrine, and worship that may have cultivated your life. As children of the Most High God, we are mandated to share the good news of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Our children deserve the truth. The appointed time has come to break the traditional generational customs of lies. The Bible declares in Ephesians 6:4, And, ye fathers provoke not your children to wrath: but bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. The future of our children rest on the foundation that we build for them today. This foundation must be built on truth and not on traditional generational customs.

This is My Story, this is My Song Christian Faith Publishing, Inc.

Trails Traveled is based upon my own life experiences and always with a biblical emphasis upon the message or messages. I truly believe that all of humanity endures many of the same hardships, defeats, frustrations, doubts, sorrows, and victories that are common to mortal man. The great apostle Paul wrote to the Christians in Corinth that "there hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man; but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it" (1 Cor. 10:13). We can learn from the patriarch Job what travails can come into our lives suddenly and unexpectedly that can almost sweep us away and will unless we have built our house on the rock of our Lord Jesus. Many of these poems were inspired upon the heath of dear saints of God and my friends in response to their legacies that were lived before us and influenced us tremendously. I have seen God's saints approach death without fear and/or remorse and with sometimes only a whisper of breath exhaled with praise and adoration for and to their Savior, the Lord Jesus. I have witnessed stillborn twins and ninety-nine-year-olds all exit this life, and I do not believe you can live among God's people without being blessed. I believe this collection of poems written by my hand can be used in devotion and meditation and can bring encouragement, even though some have a patriotic anthem to them. They are still based upon my belief that God Almighty gave this country to a people that were fleeing from religious persecution who sought for a place they could worship him in spirit and in truth. There is no intent to offend anyone, and even if a name is found, you will find the representation to be in accordance to public record. If you purchase this book, may it bring peace, joy, love, happiness, hope, and healing to you and your family.

Praising Him Simon and Schuster

What is the purpose of Scripture? The answer is to bring us to Christ our Savior. What is the work of God the Holy Spirit? The answer is to guide and show us the truth. How do we interpret Gods Word? The answer is to compare Scripture with Scripture. Unity, how do we achieve it? The answer is to listen as we read what God the Holy Spirit says. How do we learn? The answer is by asking the questions that God gave to all mankind: who, what, where, when, how, and why. So what does our Bible have to say about this? Second Timothy 3:16-17, the Bible is inspired by God, and 2 Timothy 2:15: "We are to study like a worker to be able to rightly divide the Word of TRUTH." I believe Hebrews 11:6 sums it up: "But without faith it is impossible to please HIM, for he who comes to GOD must believe that HE is, and that HE is a rewarder of those who diligently seek HIM." As you read this book, please do not miss these two points: God decided how He would build His house before He created time, and that our adoption is not speaking of our new birth but rather of our new life—that time in our future when we receive our new spiritual body—this is our inheritance. In His kingdom, we will no longer have sin in us. Just in Time! Lenten Services Wipf and Stock Publishers

Hymns and the music the church sings in worship are tangible means of expressing worship. And while worship is one of, if not the central functions of the church along with mission, service, education, justice, and compassion, and occupies a prime focus of our churches, a renewed sense of awareness to our theological presuppositions and cultural cues must be maintained to ensure a proper focus in worship. Hymns and Hymnody: Historical and Theological Introductions is a sixty-chapter, three-volume introductory textbook describing the most influential hymnists, liturgists, and musical movements of the church. This academically grounded resource evaluates both the historical and theological perspectives of the major hymnists and composers who have impacted the church over the course of twenty centuries. Volume 1 explores the early church and concludes with the Renaissance era hymnists. Volume 2 begins with the Reformation and extends to the eighteenth-century hymnists and liturgists. Volume 3 engages nineteenth century hymnists to the contemporary movements of the twenty-first century. Each chapter contains these five elements: historical background, theological perspectives communicated in their hymns/compositions, contribution to liturgy and worship, notable hymns, and bibliography. The mission of Hymns and Hymnody is (1) to provide biographical data on influential hymn writers for students and interested laypeople, and (2) to provide a theological analysis of what these composers have communicated in the theology of their hymns. We believe it is vital for those involved in leading the worship of the church to recognize that what they communicate is in fact theology. This latter aspect, we contend, is missing—yet important—in accessible formats for the current literature.

Do you need a personal relationship with our Lord and Savior? Then prayer is the answer...When I am in the presence of the Lord, I find His perfect peace that surpasses all understanding...Our prayers do not need to be embellished upon...God just loves for us to share with Him, just like you would with your spouse or a close friend...It's His desire for us to spend time with Him through the good times and the low points in our lives...Jesus wants us to come to Him in a childlike faith...And that's what the book of prayers are all about...Taking it to Jesus in the simplest form for He hears all our prayers and loves our praises...We were made for God, He had so much love that He wanted to share that love and in return to be loved...He loves our fellowship and the time we spend with Him in the scriptures as our foundation...So, I pray these Prayers with Praise touches your heart and draws you in a closer walk with our Lord and Savior.

Praising Him presents an inspiring collection of heartfelt poetry written by Mary Johnson at age eighty-nine. Between the ages of eighty and ninety, she wrote three books, covering them lovingly with wallpaper so she could give them freely to everyone. In Him was the first book to be published in 2012. Praising Him was written in 2003 and was her second book. Just Meditating will be published soon.

Marys poetry shared her personal relationship with her Savior. Some poems simply gave praise to the Lord. Many poems spoke of Jesus's cruel death on the cross. She spoke of looking forward to heaven and of being sure you are going there. She gave glory to God who created man and our miraculous bodies. She examined prophecies regarding the end times, always pointing to the Bible and Jesus's example for our lives. Her lifetime of Bible study and love of the scripture was evident in her poetry. Through this knowledge, she referenced her poetry to the passage that inspired it. Marys faith and dedication to her Savior was demonstrated through her life of service and giving to others. Her life was an inspiration to her family, her numerous church friends, and her community. Her family was blessed to be able to share their mothers gift of poetry with you.
