Selections of classic Italian poetry from the works of Tasso, Ariosto, Dante & Petrarch, by T.B. Defferrari

BRILL
Dopo La famiglia Winshaw, un altro caleidoscopio di invenzioni narrative e un'altra girandola di personaggi ora commoventi ora comici, in un dormiveglia caotico che non conosce riposo. In La casa del sonno si racconta l'avventura di un gruppo di giovani. Da studenti, nei primi anni Ottanta, vivono tutti nella severa Ashdown: Gregory, che studia medicina e ha la mania di spiare il sonno altrui; Veronica, una lesbica volitiva, ultrapoliticizza e appassionata di teatro; Terry, che dorme quattordici ore al giorno e da sveglio sogna di girare un film che richiederà cinquant'anni di riprese; Robert, romantico studente di

lettere, che scrive poesie d'amore per Sarah; e Sarah, appunto, intorno alla quale girano le vicende di tutti gli altri. Dodici anni dopo, Ashdown è diventata una clinica dove si cura la narcolessia e nei sotterranei si svolgono oscuri esperimenti. E' un autentico "castello dei destini incrociati", dove si avverano sogni e si dissolvono visioni; dove c'è chi dorme

troppo e chi troppo poco, chi ama sognare piuttosto che vivere e chi non vorrebbe perdere un solo minuto di vita nel sonno. E, mentre si interroga ossessivamente sul valore e il significato del sonno, l'eterogenea comunità di studenti, diventata adulta, inciampa nel malessere, nella follia e nelle comiche incongruenze della vita. Italian Conversation-grammar OUP Oxford The	Encyclopedia of Italian Literary Studies is a two-volume reference book containing some 600 entries on all aspects of Italian literary culture. It includes analytical essays on authors and works, from the most important figures of Italian literature to little known authors and works that are influential to the field. The Encyclopedia is distinguished by substantial	articles on critics, themes, genres, schools, historical surveys, and other topics related to the overall subject of Italian literary studies. The Encyclopedia also includes writers and subjects of contemporary interest, such as those relating to journalism, film, media, children's literature, food and vernacular literatures. Entries consist of an essay on the topic and a bibliographic

Whatever their level of knowledge of the language, learners of Italian will find this book

indispensable: it gives clear and detailed explanations of everything from the most elementary facts such as the relation between spelling and pronunciation, or the forms of the article, to more advanced points such as the various nuances of the subjunctive. Formal or archaic discourse is distinguished from informal, everyday usage, and regionalisms are also indicated where appropriate.	The authors have taken care to make it an easy and illuminating reference tool: extensive cross-referencing enables readers to quickly find the information they require, and also stimulates them to discover new, related facts. Iter Italicum: Italy: Agrigento to Novara Routledge This book examines the life of Anna Maria Ortese (1914-1998) from her first literary	writings in the Thirties to her great novels in the Nineties. The analysis focusses on two interweaving core themes, loss and the Other. It begins with the shaping of personal loss of an Other following death, separation, abandonment, coupled with melancholy for life's transience as depicted in autobiographical works and in her masterpiece Il porto di Toledo. The book then

addresses Ortese's literary engagement with social themes in realist stories set in post-war Naples in her collection Il mare non bagna Napoli and then explores her continuing preoccupation with socio- ethical issues, imbued with autobiographi- cal elements, in non-realist texts, including her masterful novels L'iguana, Il cardillo addolorato and Alonso e i visionari The book	combines theme and genre analysis, highlighting Ortese's adoption and hybridization of diverse literary forms such as poetry, the novel, the short story, the essay, autobiography , realism, fairy tales, fantasy, allegory. In her work Ortese weaves an ongoing dialogue with literary and non-literary works, through direct quotations, allusions, echoes, adoption of motifs and	topoi. The book thus highlights the intertextual relationship with her sources: Leopardi, Dante, Petrarch, Manzoni, Collodi, Montale, Serao; Shakespeare, Milton, Keats, Blake, Joyce, Conrad, Melville, Poe, Hawthorne, Hardy; Manrique, Gongora, de Quevedo, Villalón, Bello, Cantar del mio Cid; Heine, Valery, Puccini's Madam Butterfly, folklore,

popular songs, and the Bible. Ortese thus shapes her literary themes in the background of social, political and economic upheavals over six decades of Italian history, culminating in an allegorical critique of modernity and a call for a renewed bond between humans and the Other.

A Window on the Italian Female Modernist Subjectivity

University of Toronto Press
This collection of essays surveys some of the artistic productions by female figures who stood at the forefront of Italian modernity in the fields of literature, photography, and even the theatre, in order to explore how artistic engagement in women informed their views on, and reactions to the challenges of a changing society and a 'disinhibiting' intellectual landscape. However, one other objective takes on a central role in this volume: that of opening a window on the re-definition of the subjectivity of the self that occurred during an intriguing and still not fully studied period of artistic and societal changes. In particular, the present volume aims to define a female Italian Modernism which can be seen as complementary, and not necessarily in opposition, to its male counterpart.
